To whom it may concern.

I am writing as I have concerns in regard to the 2016-17 Legislative Council Electoral Boundaries initial Redistribution Proposal.

Firstly this proposal is a significant change with serious repercussions for those in the North East and upper East Coast who chose their elected member less than 12 months ago.

Secondly if the redistribution proposal comes into effect our member could or would be allocated the proposed southern electorate, meaning she would not be living in our area. Yet again the North East and East Coast have been overlooked. Over recent years our area has suffered many business closures, many families having to leave the area, others having to fly out positions to support families. I am aware that these changes are population based but perhaps it should be more about each area of Tasmania having representation.

Yours sincerely

Jon Nunan.
